We dedicate our 1979 Reflections yearbook to a man who has served, for over half a century, as an outstanding example of professional and ethical optometry. DR. FOSTER NAMIAS

Dr. Namias, a member of the exclusive Hole-in-One Club, is also the first member of the NEWENCO faculty to have a wild animal named in his honor.

The Bear

Due to space limitations, only retiring faculty members and those who were specifically selected by the graduating class to appear have been pictured. Dr. Namias headed the list.

Pick a caption or make one up.

"Just getting a waist measurement."
"It's stuck!!! Really!"
.....

"Your ears need cleaning."
"Peek-a-boo!"
Instrumentation confirms PD of 39.

Introducing our newest development to the newest optometrists

POLYCON[®]
(silafocan A) CONTACT
LENS

A rigid, stable, oxygen-permeable lens that provides excellent visual acuity and maintains normal corneal physiology.

BRIEF SUMMARY

INDICATIONS: The POLYCON contact lens is indicated for the correction of visual acuity for persons with nondiseased eyes having ametropias, including those with high degrees of corneal or refractive astigmatism, as well as aphakia.

CONTRAINDICATIONS: Acute and subacute inflammations of the anterior segment of the eye; any eye disease which affects the cornea or conjunctiva; insufficiency of lacrimal secretion; corneal hyposthesia; or any systemic disease which may affect the eye or be exacerbated by wearing contact lenses.

WARNINGS: Abrasions and Infections: If the lens becomes less comfortable to the wearer than when first placed on the wearer's cornea, a foreign body may be present. The patient should remove the lens immediately. If discomfort persists, an eye care practitioner should examine the patient as soon as possible to determine if any corneal abrasion, ulceration, irritation or infection is present.

Aphakic Patients: Aphakic patients should not be fitted during the postoperative period until the surgeon determines that the eye has healed completely.

Lens Care Regimen: Only use Preflex[®] Sterile Cleaning Solution,

Normol[®] Sterile Solution, and Adapettes[®] Sterile Lubricating Solution with the POLYCON lens. Store ONLY in Normol[®] Sterile Solution. Patients must adhere to recommended daily lens care regimen. FAILURE TO DO SO MAY RESULT IN DEVELOPMENT OF SERIOUS OCULAR INFECTIONS.

Medicaments and Eye Drops: Wearers must not use any medicaments or ophthalmic solutions other than Adapettes solution prior to inserting the lens or while the lens is on the eye.

Wearing Restrictions: Remove before sleeping or in the presence of noxious and irritating vapors.

PRECAUTIONS: CLEANING AND DISINFECTION — THE POLYCON CONTACT LENS MUST BE BOTH CLEANED AND DISINFECTED DAILY. ONE PROCEDURE DOES NOT REPLACE THE OTHER.

To disinfect the lens, it is stored in fresh Normol solution for a minimum of four hours daily in the patient lens storage case. After removal of the lens from the storage case, it is rinsed thoroughly with Normol solution. Adapettes lubricating solution is applied to the lens surfaces as a wetting agent prior to inserting the lens in the eye.

ADVERSE REACTIONS: Rainbows or halos around objects or blurring of the vision. Excessive tearing, unusual eye secretions and photophobia.

FITTING AND WEARING SCHEDULE: Conventional methods of fitting contact lenses apply to the POLYCON contact lens.

NOTE: STUDIES HAVE NOT BEEN PERFORMED TO SUPPORT SAFETY OF THIS LENS FOR LONGER THAN THE RECOMMENDED WEARING TIME.

A POLYCON Contact Lens Patient Care Kit must be provided at the dispensing visit.

Preflex, Normol and Adapettes are trademarks of Burton, Parsons & Company, Inc.

There is only one material with a patented formula exclusive to frame manufacture. That material is OPTYL®.

There is only one frame material programmed with a shape Memory®. OPTYL frames maintain their original fit and comfort longer because the cast shape is remembered.

The chemical structure of OPTYL material is exclusive. Uniformly set molecular filaments are interlaced or crosslinked giving added strength yet flexibility to an OPTYL frame. The result are these patient advantages: stability and freedom from filament "creep" and frame distortion. Once a corrective lense is established and inserted in an OPTYL frame, it remains at its optical center. Frames made in OPTYL are lightweight, biologically inert (hypoallergenic) and durable.

Others may duplicate the styles, but they can't duplicate the frame material. OPTYL . . . developed exclusively for eyewear manufacture, patient comfort and convenience.
